Dear Beloved AAD Members,

We had an Executive Board meeting on October 28th and there is not anything exciting or new to share. It was same old routine. To our relief, over 100 AAD members renewed their membership and we continue to grow with new AAD members.

Because there will be a wedding on November 11, we will have a meeting on November 18th instead. We will have a turkey dinner with no charge served for current AAD members. We will order and have the dinner catered and served to you. You may ask how come this dinner will be free? We simply wanted to thank you for your loyalty and dedication for AAD and we are proud of our members.

We are trying to start to have a lecturer every month or two. We want your suggestion. Would you be interested if a guest lecturer visits once a month either weekday or weekend. Would every two months be better? If you are interested to give workshop or talk about something, please contact us and we will help you to host at Austin Deaf Club for free. We also have a few games at AAD. Should we have a tournament for each game? Look at the pictures on the last page of newsletter to get an idea. Please share your input, opinion and feedback. We want to make Austin Deaf Club your place.

We have been open every Sunday for football games but almost nobody came. We understand perfectly because Sundays are the best time to relax with family in quiet environment at home so today was the last day. Of course, we will open again for the Super Bowl. Smile!

Members have a special bond. We, the board members, believe in AAD members because they believe in us. An unique combination of membership and friendship become stronger together than apart.

Hugs,

President Jo

NOV THROWFLASH

THROWFLASH: Banknight History

Sometime after 1990, at AAD general meeting, Rosie Katz (passed away in 2006) and Beth (Strain) Hill sat together far back in the meeting smoking. Both women were talking about how to get more members to the meeting. Rosie mentioned that when she lived in Houston, Deaf Club use BankNight to get more members to the meetings. Next day Beth and Rosie with group of their friends started member list with numbers. Billie Jordan helped with AAD member list. Then they have members' numbers on the chips to use them to draw the winners.

Two drawing roll cages to draw number were made by Patsy Compton's friend, Franklin Tippet (passed away). Both cages are still in use. One cage was used for chips with numbers, second cage for tickets.

The rules for BankNight were developed...

1. BankNight shall be held right after AAD's monthly general meeting. If no meeting due to quorum, BankNight shall continue!
2. First 5 drawings, use the chips, the winners must be current members and had bought tickets.
3. Next set of drawings, using tickets, the winners including visitors with their bought tickets.
4. The winners shall be awarded with cash prizes right away.
5. Reserve the number 46 to honor Gwendel and Wanda Bulter who helped to make it possible for AAD to own a clubhouse on 3 acres.
6. Honor the numbers of our deceased members for one year (We did not practice that, our apology. We will do this from now on)
7. When become inactive, the member can keep same number up to 3 years. When renew membership after 3 years, new number will be given.

This BankNight has played for past 27 years today. We are still playing BankNight right after AAD's monthly general meetings.
